

Fishing

Get the bait.
Get the pole.
Let's go down
To the fishing hole.
Cast the line.
Make a wish.
Hope I catch
The biggest fish!

Suggestions for Classrooms:

For Building Phonological Awareness:

1. Read aloud and point out the rhyming words. You may ask learners if they can hear what sounds in the rhyming words are the same and which sounds are different. Can students think of any other words that rhyme with those in the poem?
2. What about beginning, middle and end of words? You can use the words in the rhyme to compare and contrast the beginning, middle and ending sounds. You may compare and contrast three-letter words versus blends or digraphs that are similar and have the same short vowel sound.
3. As students' skills expand, you may wish to ask them about syllables. Clap out the syllables in each word... word-by-word. Can they tell the difference between one-syllable words and multi-syllable words?
4. As students' skills expand, you may wish to ask them about increasingly challenging letter sounds. In which word(s) do they hear the sound of short U or short A, for example?

These same strategies can be adapted for use of poems at home.
